

Gods really wild about *me

By: Emily Bannard

I've learned so much through these past lessons God,
I never thought it would be true

How much you mean to me god,
And how much I mean to you.

I was afraid to really open my eyes,
The world today holds so many lies.

But you God, you would never let me permanently fall.
You pick me back up, give me strength, that's not all.

Your love is all I want. Your love is all I need.
That's the only thing that will help me succeed.

Not my teachers not my friends, only you.
A lot of people wouldn't believe it, but god I really do.

You fill me with abundant light.
God, you make the moment feel so right.

You're the only love that can fill my soul.
God, your love promises to make me whole.

Why would anyone want to miss a love like that?
I defiantly know I wouldn't, and that's a fact.

I'm so glad that now I can see,
That you, God, are wild about me.
